Tim Norris, Board member and speaker for Project Light Rowan, is a resident of Salisbury. Tim leads the Hospital and Healthcare Professionals Team for Project Light. He and his wife, Leigh Ann, are active parishioners at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Salisbury. Tim has dedicated his time over the years to numerous leadership roles with organizations in his community and the state. He has most recently engaged with Project Light to join the battle against human trafficking in the region of NC centered around Salisbury. Project Light works with safe houses, law enforcement, potential victims, and survivors of human trafficking. Project Light seeks to share its knowledge and resources beyond the Rowan County area and is partnering with Catholic Charities to do so.
